Administrative History

The UIC College of Medicine was founded in 1882 as the independent Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons. It was acquired by the University of Illinois in 1913. In the 1960s, the College of Medicine created satellite campuses in the Illinois communities of Peoria, Rockford, and Urbana Champaign. Today, the UIC College of Medicine is the largest medical school in the country focusing on educating a highly diverse student body and on innovative medical research. The Curriculum Overview Subcommittee was appointed in 1988 by the Dean to review the year four curriculum in hopes of implementing suggestions and create educational innovations. The subcommittee met from 1988-1990. Five recommendations for student’s preclinical years were reported and approved. From 1992-1997 the university subcommittees were held for the M2, M3, and ICM Curriculum.
